

THE ALTONIAN WEEKLY

WEEK 34
15th September 2022

Alton Town Council, Town Hall, Market Square, Alton, Hampshire, GU34 1HD
www.alton.gov.uk 01420 83986

The Book of Condolence will remain open at the Town Hall this week until Friday 16th September 9 - 4pm.

Over the weekend the book will be relocated to the Community Centre and will be available for people to sign on Saturday 17th 9pm - 1pm and Sunday 18th between 10am - 1pm.

The Book will not be available for signing on Monday 19th September due to the Bank Holiday. The Book of Condolence will then be available to sign for the final time on Tuesday 20th September from 9am - 4pm after which time the book will be closed.

Thank you to everyone who came along to the Proclamation on Sunday and to Dean-Paul Phillips for providing sound engineering services for both the live audio and the on-line streaming. If you were unable to attend or would like to view it online please click here <https://www.facebook.com/altontowncouncil/videos/1155601025052441>

In the Parish of the Resurrection this Sunday in every service there will a short act of remembrance and a minute's silence.

Everyone is welcome to join at this time of national mourning and preparation for the funeral of the Late Queen Elizabeth II.

Further to the announcement earlier this week, the National Moment of Reflection will take place this coming Sunday 18th September. Town Mayor Cllr Ginny Boxall and the Deputy Mayor Cllr Suzie Burns will lead the minute silence at 8pm and will welcome any members of the community who wish to come together for this tribute at The Assembly Rooms lawn.

Equally, people are invited to observe the minute silence at home or on their doorstep.

Bin Collections - EHDC

Monday 19 September will be a Bank Holiday to coincide with Queen Elizabeth II's State Funeral.

All bin collections in East Hampshire will be suspended for that day.

From Tuesday 20 September, household bin collections will take place a day later than normal, including collections due on Friday 23 September moving to Saturday 24 September.

Normal collections will resume on Monday 26 September.

Household glass collections remain suspended.

Please visit our bin collections page <https://www.easthants.gov.uk/bin-collections> to stay up to date and share this information with your friends and neighbours in the district.

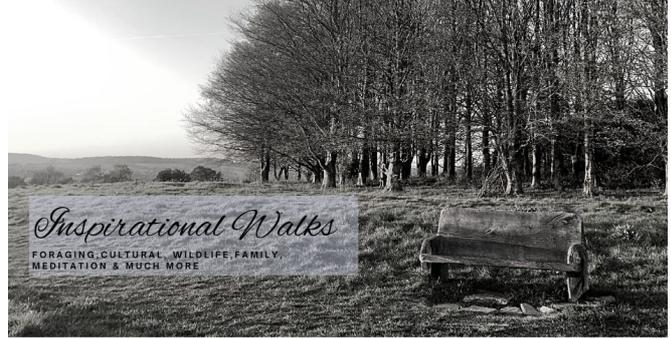

Message From South Western Railway

Strike Action Suspended, 15 and 17 September 2022

The strike action due to affect our network has been suspended by the trade unions involved. We welcome this decision. At a time of national mourning, we are united with the rest of the railway family in sending our condolences to His Majesty The King and the whole Royal Family.

Our plan is to reinstate a normal service for the days which would have been affected by the strikes. We are also working through what further changes might be required as part of preparations to help the nation commemorate the Queen.
